As the affair had occurred in another jurisdiction the police referred the dead man's friends to the Alexandria county authorities. It was claimed that the victim had been engaged in a game of crap, and that after he had won money from the other players he was assaulted and carried to the car tracks, where he was left in order to make it appear that a car had struck him.

Constable Lipscomb made a partial in-quiry into the affair, and satisfied himself that Taylor had been beaten and taken to the place where he was found. According to the information obtained by the constable Taylor participated in a game of crap, and a fight ensued. After the trouble was over he was carried by two men and left near the railroad track, where he was afterwards found in a dying condition.

The constable is still at work on the case, and some arrests may be made.

DEAD FISH IN THE RIVER.

Man Employed to Remove Possible Menace to Health.

Health Officer Woodward has forwarded to the District Commissioners a special report made by Sanitary Inspector E. W. Whitaker concerning the condition of the river front in the vicinity of the harbormaster's office. The inspector states that many small dead fish are floating on the surface of the water, and declares that when the tide recedes these fish remain menace to the occupants of the buildings in the vicinity. He says he has been uninloading near the wharf.

Dr. Woodward suggests that the health department be authorized to employ a laborer at $1.50 per diem, payable from the emergency fund, to remove the dead fish from the river so as to prevent the further development of this nuisance. The Commissioners have approved the recom-

ALL ABOUT A FIRE PLUG. Early Morning Flushing Disturbed a

The District Commissioners are in receipt of a letter from Thomas W. Gilmer of 545 the noise caused by the turning on of a fire plug near his residence. He says:

"A little after daybreak this morning of the fire plug at 6th street and Florida avenue northwest, and let the water run with the noise of a cataract for about fifteen minutes. The noise seemed sufficient to wake everyone in the neighborhood. My sleep was murdered for three hours, as I could not get to sleep again. If said act was authorized and necessary, cannot some more reasonable hour be selected in the future?" The communication was referred by the Commissioners to Superintendent W. A. McFarland of the water department, who returned it through the engineer departent with the following report:

"The work of flushing fire hydrants in the District is now done at night, it having been found that the flow of water at this time causes less nuisance than when done in the day time. In my opinion this practice should be continued."

Captain Chester Harding, assistant to the Engineer Commissioner, in his indorsement of the paper declares that "The occasional flushing of fire hydrants is necessary and, as stated in the preceding indorsement, it has been the practice to do the work at night when the traffic on the streets is at a minimum. The particular hydrant referred to herein is flushed only once in about three weeks, and it is not believed that the disturbance caused is of sufficient moment to justify the within complaint, or to warrant any action in the matter."

Captain Beach, the Engineer Commissioner, has approved the indorsements. BUT SEVENTEEN DAYS MORE.

Boyd Wallace to Be Hanged Unless

Reprieved. Boyd Wallace, colored, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Robert Stafford, his half brother, has but sevengiven up hope of escaping the gallows, and confidently expects a commutation of sentence if his counsel does not succeed in getting a new trial for him. The condemned man converses with ministers and other religious workers who visit the jail, but has not yet commenced preparations in a spiritual sense for the end of life.

The murder was committed about 12 o'clock the night of the 8th of August last at 607 N street northwest, and was the result of a quarrel about a woman named Harriet Jackson. A pruning knife was the weapon used, and the victim died a few minutes after he was stabbed. Detective Trumbo arrested Wallace, and he was tried last fall. He was to have been executed more than a month ago, but a respite was granted in order that he might get his cas before the Court of Appeals.
